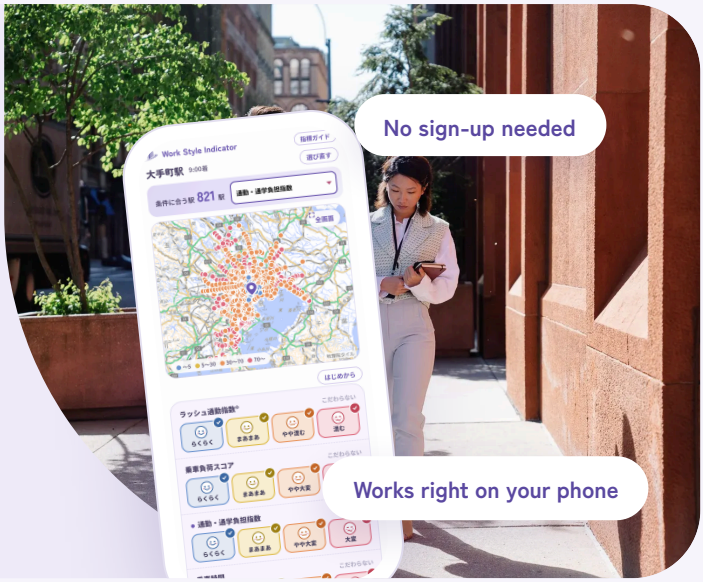
Work Style Indicator
ワークスタイルインディケーター

For real estate companies

Can be built into your company's website

"Where can I live with an easy commute to work?" Answer it on your company's website.

Just enter a workplace, and the map uses color to show stations with a lighter morning commute. Build it right into home-search pages or guides for transferred and new employees.



WORRY

Do you get questions like these?

- Clients ask, "Which areas are easy to commute to work from?"
- Transferred and new employees do not know the area
- You want to explain the balance of rent and commute clearly

POINT

With Work Style Indicator on your site

POINT 01

Stations with a lighter commute from the workplace, on a map

Stations with a lighter commute appear bluer, and stations with a heavier one appear redder. See at a glance how easy it is to commute to the workplace.

POINT 02

Train crowding, ride time and a guide to rent, in 6 indicators

Indicators such as the Rush Commute Index and the Ride Load Score turn the strain of each morning into numbers. You can also check a guide to rent.

POINT 03

No personal data collected, so you can post it with confidence

No sign-up, and no email address or phone number to enter. Anyone can use it right away.

Recommended pages SCENE

- Property and neighborhood pages
- Housing guides for transferred and new employees
- "Work environment" pages on recruiting sites
